FRICK COKE COMPANY NOW OPERATING NEARLY FULL

Increase Iron and Steel Trade Brings Prosperity

NEW OVENS ARE FIRED

Concern Which Purchased Monongahela Tract in Good Shape

Evidencing general and gradual improvement in the iron and steel business and as a natural consequence in the coke business, the H. C. Frick Coke company, the fuel end of the United States Steel Corporation, which recently purchased large tracts of coal land in this vicinity, fired 1200 coke ovens Tusday and Wednesday. The Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Struthers Coal and Coke company fired 400 ovens. All these developments were in Fayette county.

Since the first of the year, when about 57 per cent of the ovens in the Fayette County Coke region were in operation up to the end of last week when the percentage had risen to slightly over 60, there has been very little change. Ovens were blown out as contracts expired, and fired again when new orders were received. The general situation, however, has been one of waiting.

The iron and steel business is assuming a healthier tone, and while a boom is not anticipated, it is the concensus of opinion that there will be steady, gradual improvement f rom now on, which means renewed activity and increased prosperity in the coke region.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company on Saturday gave orders for the blowing in of approximately 1,200 ovens—1,196 to be exact—Wednesday and Thursday.

This will give the Frick Coke Company slightly in excess of 14,000 ovens in operation or close to 70 per cent, a higher percentage than at any time since the middle of April, when 75.5 per cent of their ovens were in blast.

WOMAN ESCAPES FROM THE HOME

The County home authorities are at present looking for Mrs. Lizzie Taylor, who since last March has been an inmate of the institution. With her two sons, John and Alexander, aged respectively 19 and 8 years, wards of the C hildren's h ome, she slipped away about dusk on last Friday evening.

Mrs. Taylor secured permission of the authorities at the home about 8 o'clock Friday evening to go to the store at Arden. After making some trivial purchases the woman went to the Children's home and asked to see her two sons, stating that she wished to give them some candy. She was permitted to converse with the boys, and watching their opportunity the three skipped out.

Word was at once sent by phone to Superintendent John W. Quivey, at the County home, and he and some of his assistants at once began a search. It was thought the woman would board an interurban car, but this surmise was wrong.

The woman and her sons have thus far eluded officers who have been asked to be on the lookout for them The fugitives resided at Donora prior to being committed to the County and Children's home. They were found in destitute circumstances some time in March. The mother was taken to the County home, and the children were placed in charge of the detention officer of the Juvenile court by local officials. Afterwards they were committed to the Children's home.

It is the year's greatest sale. Remnant Day at Berryman's, Charleroi, Thursday and Friday, August 10 and 11. 9-2-t

SOLE SURVIVOR AGAIN IN TOILS

Elwanger Charged With Violation of the Mining Laws

INFORMATION BY M'CANCH

Fred Elwanger, the sole survivor of the Marianna mine disaster is again under arrest. Constable Nelson Luker of Monongahela apprehended the m an on a warrant charging violations of the mining laws at the Rebecca mine at Marianna on oath of Mine Inspector Alexander McCanch. It was alleged that Elwanger, who is a bricklayer in the mine, was caught by the firemen and fire boss smoking a pipe in the mine, which is in vidlation of an act of assembly approved June 9, 1911. He was given a hearing before Alderman A. R. Day and held for court at the August term under $300 bond. Although Elwanger h ad $480 in his pocket he did not furnish the bail.

It is said that H. F. Dotts, a sympathizer of the survivor of the great disaster, will bring suit against Constable Luker for not allowing Elwanger to give bail at Marianna instead of bringing him to Monongahela Luker called Day on the telephone and was informed that he would have to bring the prisoner before him.

Elwanger was arrested on information of J. R. Chalfant, detective for the Pennsylvania railroad, on November 29, 1910, charged with larceny and an attempt. to commit a felony He was indicted with Edward Walters, who was sent to the workhouse for two years. It is said that Walters made a confession which implicated Elwanger but because he was sent to the workhouse when he wanted to go to the pentitentiary he refused to testify and Elwanger was discharged.

FRIENDS URGE HIM TO BE CANDIDATE

Charles O. Frye, of Charleroi, Asked to Enter Race for Clerk of the Courts

GOOD MAN FOR THE PLACE

A report has been circulated in Charleroi that Charles O. Frye was to enter the race for Clerk of Courts at the coming primaries.. In an interview with Mr. Frye this morning he said: "It is true that many friends have urged me to enter the field. Please just say for me that when I have thought the matter over and come to a definite conclusion, I will give my answer."

Should he decide to enter the field as a candidate for Clerk of Courts Mr. Frye would present a front that would be hard for any opposing candidate to overcome. There is none better fitted for the duties required of the Clerk of Courts. He has the ability and all other qualifications for the office and back of them all has the conscientiousness and will power to perform what he thinks is best for the majority.

To the Mail there would not be any doubt but that Mr. Frye would make a winning run. He is well and favorably known throughout the county and the mere mention of his name would bring friends rallying to his support. Through his work as Census Supervisor last year he gained a wide acquaintanceship among the voters and they got to know him thoroughly as a man in whom they could place every trust. As a borough councilman he has done as much for the town as any other councilman who has served heretofore. Evidence of his work for the borough shows in numerous places. A natural born business man he with other progressive members has introduced a system into the municipal affairs that has been the surprise and envy of older and larger boroughs and cities. Mr. Frye tempers his acts with wisdom and never makes a move without first considering the advisibility of such and the reasonableness of it. Backed by an indomitable will he carries out what he starts to do. Such a man the county needs and it is to be hoped that Mr. Frye will consent to have his name offered as a candidate for the office suggested.

CLOSES ON FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL

County Detective Object to Games at Monongahela

PEOPLE OBJECT TO HIM

Considerable excitement was caused Tuesday when County Detective William McCleary ordered the Klause Carnival company, at Monongahela this week as a special attraction with the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's convention, to close up their canes racks, paddle wheel, Japanese ball and other games. He declared they were gambling devices and as such claimed they should not be allowed to run.

Upon the attractions being ordered closed Monongahela people including the c arnival people themselves got busy. They inquired of Detective McCleary as to his authority. He said the District Attorney had given instructions. County Commissioner Hill took the matter up when the board was petitioned to have extra detectives appointed to help McCleary out at Monongahela and on Tuesday evening was at Monongahela to do a little investigating himself. The result was it is stated, that some of the attractions were reopened again.

Disrict Attorney Acheson was communicated with by phone in regard to the matter at Monongahela and said according to Monongahela people that County Detective McCleary was pushing the matter himself. The carnival management claims that the games conducted are no worse than those run at other places.

Games similar to those with the Klause Carnival company were conducted at a carnival in Charleroi a year or more ago. They were closed down.

PRACTICAL RELIGION

The editor of the Holten (Kansas) Signal, being asked by a correspondent what he regarded as the best system of religion, made this reply:

"In our humble opinion, the best 'system' of religion is that which brings to you the greatest peace and comfort. Christian religion—based on the teachings of Jesus—a religion which we believe, has been a marvelous ad t o mankind. As John J. Ingalls once said, 'Pilate and Herod and Caesar, the kings and heroes, philosophers of that time, are nothing. No one cares that they lived or died, but millions now would rather die than surrender their faith in Jesus.' The details of a man's belief, the denomination with which he shall practice his religion, the ideas he may have of heaven and hell, his conception of his duty to God and his fellow-men are questions which he must fight out for himself, and his accountability, so long as his conduct trangresses not on the rights of others, is to his Maker alone. Every man should strive to live in such a manner that when he places his head on his pillow at night it will be with the feeling that he is at peace with his God, his family, his friends, and his banker. A religion which brings so fine a feeling—whatever it might be called—is worth striving for Perhaps this is not an orthodox view, but we are answering our correspondent's to the best of our ability."

ATHLETIC IDEALS

Dr. Goldwin Smith, in a short letter to the Cornell Era, tells of his ideal in athletics. This is a pithy paragraph from his statement: "I see that the number of athletes failing to pass a university examination is less than it was. The shade of Ezra Cornell will rejoice. What our founder wanted was not show of muscle, but preparation for life, in which in the case of university men muscle does not count for much The force spent in football can not be recalled for study. Let us have games by all means, but games which exercise, not exhaust, and in which all alike can take part. Besides there is military drill, good in itself and not to be neglected if the force of the country is to be kept in the right hands. Into some universities the betting ring seems to nave crept never, I hope, into ours."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Brown is traveing man who lives in Pittsburg. He has a little three-year-old who has just learned to say her prayers. Every Sunday Brown gets home for a few hours, but this is about all the time he has with his family.

Consequently the little girl is not as well acquainted, perhaps as she might be with his relation to the family, although she thinks him very nice because of the candy and presents he brings to her.

Mrs. Brown, in teaching the child its prayers, of course, t aught her to ask a blessing for "papa" along with "mamma" and "grandma" and "grandpa" and other persons the child knows well. She was much surprised the other night when the child at the end of "Now I lay me," recited the remainder of the prayer like this:

"God bless papa, mamma, grandma, grandpa, Willie and that man who comes to see mamma every Sunday and brings me such nice things"

"The toughest experience I ever had in my life was with the superintendent of a steel plant in the valley," said a life insurance solicitor. "I knew he was wealthy and carried no insurance, so I resolved to tackle him. Upon e ntering his office and explaining my business, I was surprised at his friendly, even cordial greeting.

"'Life insurance,' he said. "Well, now, that is a subject that interests me. Come with me to the shop. I've got to go there and you can tell me all about your company'

"Then he took up his hat and I followed him, until at last he flung open a door. It was the machine shop, and the din was terrible. Hundreds of hammers were all beating iron at once and I was nearly deafened. Looking at my man I saw his lips move, and, leaning forward, I just managed to hear him shout:

"'Now tell me all about it.'

"He smiled as he said this, and I saw the trick that had been played on me. It was impossible to say a word so I marched right out of the shop and never went b ack."

Young Girl's Brave Act.

Remarkable bravery and presence of mind were displayed lately by Gwennie Franklin, aged 16, of New York, when she saved two boys from being burned to death. Half a dozen youngsters bedecked in war costumes of Indians were playing around a "council fire" in a vacant lot when George McCullough, aged six, got too close to the fire, and his clothes became ignited. His brother, Alexander, a year older, tried to beat out the flames and the fire spread to his clothing The girl leaning ont of the window of her home saw the accident, and the two brothers rolling on the ground. She ran out of doors, leaped over a fence and holding first one boy and then the other, heaped sand over them till the fire was extinguished. Both boys were unconscious, but not seriously injured.

Bees Recognize Man as Friend.

Charles Potchenick, employed by the Maverick apiaries near San Antonio, Tex, has unusual control over bees. He handles them with as much ease as one would in playing with kittens or a harmless pet. While working with them he goes bare-armed and bare-faced and pays no attention to the insects as they crawl over his exposed hands and arms or pile up in great clumps on his face. Recently he had a picture taken holding a small limb in his teeth on which a swarm had settled. The bees formed a kind of long beard hanging below his waist and his entire face was covered with those that crawled from the limb. Old bee keepers say that his feats in handling bees are the most remarkable in the world. He claims that he has not been stung in two years.

Oldest Dwelling.

Archaeologists at a recent conference decided that the oldest dwelling inhabited today is a mansion belonging to Count Matuschke at Winfel-on-the-Rhine, Germany, which was built in 700.

Short but Active Lives.

The working bee lives six months, the drone four months and the queen bee four years

Industrious Jackdaws.

Sixty-seven sackfuls of sticks have been discovered on top of the tower of St. Michael's church, Exeter, England. They had been carried there by jackdaws for nest building.

The Greater Affliction.

To a discouraged remark of one New Yorker that appendicitis ran in his family, another savagely answered: "Thunderation! You don't know when you're well off; banging the piano runs in mine!"

HISTORIC TREE IS NOW DYING

A large Black Heart cherry tree located on the J. E. Sphar farm near this place, which is probably the oldest landmark of this section of Washington county is dying, only a few branches retaining life and it will soon suffer the fate of other marks of the historic past.

The tree is is claimed by the oldest living residents of this section bore fruit as early as the year 1786 and it is probably 125 to 150 years of age The original patent on the tract of land on which the tree stands was taken out on November 25, 1786 and was known as the McCardell Design.

The tract of land has passed into varions h ands since that time, but among the traditions handed down by one generation to another was that the tree was bearing fruit when the original patent was t aken out and at that time it was surrounded by a dense forest. The farm was conveyed to John Sphar and Henry Sphar, who were uncles of the present owner, J. E Sphar, by Stephen Luce in the year 1854.

The historic tree stands not far from Maple creek in sight of the bridge recently constructed over that stream by the county. It measures 11 feet in circumferance with six large limbs about 10 feet from the ground. The lengths of these limbs follow: Four feet seven inches, five feet seven inches, five feet one inch, main limb on center limb six feet six inches, four feet.

The tree spreads over 65 feet one way and 55 feet the other.

PAVING WORK IS PROGRESSING

It is expected that the work of paving Seventh and Eighth streets between Fallowfield and Washington avenues will be completed within a week or ten days. Thomas Arrigo is the contractor and is just about ready to begin brick laying on Eighth street, and will be ready to begin work on Seventh street in a day or so. The Charleroi Water company has installed a water main in Seventh to be used as suggested by the Underwriters department in a connection between Crest avenue and McKean avenue mains

REUNION TO BE HELD AT THE AMITY SCHOOL

The first annual reunion of the school at Amity will be held on Thursday, August 31. The school is one of the oldest in the county and if the enthusiasm shown at the present time is any indication, one of the greatest celebrations of the kind ever held in the county wil result.

CRUSADE ON BUMPS BEGUN BY BOROUGH

Borough Engineer Paul G. Elder and the b orough street force are about to begin a crusade on "bumps" on borough paved streets to put them in condition for fall and winter. In their work they will be aided by the trolley companies. On McKean avenue the Pittsburg Railways company will repair bumps between its t racks. The Charleroi Water company plumbers gas men and others who have had occasion to open up any of the streets will be asked to remove bumps resulting in many cases from the openings

He Didn't Know.

One June day in 1862 near Fredericksburg, Va., General Stonewall Jackson saw one of General Hood's Texans climbing a fence to get into a cherry tree. "Where are you going?" shouted Jackson. "I don't know," replied the soldier. "To what command do you belong?" "I don't know," the Texan replied. "Well, what state are you from?" "I don't know." Jackson gave the man up, but he asked a comrade what it all meant. "Well," was the reply, "Old Stonewall and General Hood gave orders yesterday that we were not to know anything until after the next fight."

The soldier was left to his cherries.

An Innocent Query.

At a dinner party in England the host introduced to the favorable notice of the company, amid murmurs of admiration, a splendid truffled pheasant.

"Isn't it a beauty?" he said. "Dr. So-and-so gave it to me; killed it himself."

"Ah! What was he treating it for?" asked one of the guests.

A State Secret.

"I hope your husband has no secrets from you." "Not many. However, he never would tell me what he paid for the engagement ring."

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured.

It has been abundantly shown that rest, fresh air, and good food, do help many persons suffering from tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food and good cooking unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food, and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows:—Weldon, Ill.

Gentlemen: "Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

On December 14, 1904, I was taken with typhoid pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. On February 21st, 1905, was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3rd, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

On the 14th of July I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption, it being very highly recommended. To-day I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better. I would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure."

BASEBALL BINGLES

Sporting Life says:"Little Gene Elliott, the Highlanders' recruit third baseman, who made a great hit on the Southern training trip, seems to have dropped out of sight entirely. With the consent of Manager Chase Eliott went to his home in Pennsylvania shortly after the opening of the season. He was to report as soon as his lame arm rounded into form. Nothing has been heard from Elliott since." Possibly if Manager Chase would drop in Charleroi Saturday afternoon he would discover what became of Elliott.

* * *

"Bob" Tarleton, former Charleroi first baseman in the good old P. O. M. times is now playing a good game for Providence in the Eastern League.

* * *

Parsons, an old P. O. M. league pitcher is with Montreal in the Eastern circuit.

* * *

Abstein, a Pittsburg Pirate for a while, now poses on first base for Jersey City. Phelps who used to do most of the receiving for the Corsairs is playing with Toronto.

* * *

There are a big lot of former minor league stars camping around this vicinity.

* * *

Phil Hinton, who was scheduled to play with the Charleroi Independents on Saturday as gone to Hamilton, Can., to catch for that team.

* * *

The last Friday at New Castle it is stated the New Castle team drew 25 paid admissions. It is no wonder the bottom rungers of the O. and P. couldn't stay there.

* * *

Piqua, the team John McIlvaine is twirling for has advanced to fourth place. Arch Osborne's club, Lima is in seventh. Springfield is leading the league but at that is only 10 points ahead of Marion, in the Ohio State.

* * *

According to Arch Osborne, manager of Lima ,none of the minor leagues are doing exceptionally well this year.

* * *

A minor league team $4,000 in debt this year looks to be about as big a proposition to worry about as that of Charleroi two or three years ago. And that's New Castle.

BENEFIT GAME TO START TONIGHT PROMPTLY AT 6

FRICK COKE COMPANY NOW OPERATING NEARLY FULL

Increase Iron and Steel Trade Brings Prosperity

NEW OVENS ARE FIRED

Concern Which Purchased Monongahela Tract in Good Shape

Evidencing general and gradual improvement in the iron and steel business and as a natural consequence in the coke business, the H. C. Frick Coke company, the fuel end of the United States Steel Corporation, which recently purchased large tracts of coal land in this vicinity, fired 1200 coke ovens Tusday and Wednesday. The Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Struthers Coal and Coke company fired 400 ovens. All these developments were in Fayette county.

Since the first of the year, when about 57 per cent of the ovens in the Fayette County Coke region were in operation up to the end of last week when the percentage had risen to slightly over 60, there has been very little change. Ovens were blown out as contracts expired, and fired again when new orders were received. The general situation, however, has been one of waiting.

The iron and steel business is assuming a healthier tone, and while a boom is not anticipated, it is the concensus of opinion that there will be steady, gradual improvement from now on, which means renewed activity and increased prosperity in the coke region.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company on Saturday gave orders for the blowing in of approximately 1,200 ovens—1,196 to be exact—Wednesday and Thursday.

This will give the Frick Coke Company slightly in excess of 14,000 ovens in operation or close to 70 per cent, a higher percentage than at any time since the middle of April, when 75.5 per cent of their ovens were in blast.

At an inquest Tuesday evening at California into the death of William Page, aged 18, who was crushed to death between a mine car and a rib of an entry at the Crescent mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, near California, on August 2, it was found that death had been due to negligence on the part of Motorman J. R. Brown. Brown is said to have started his motor before receiving a signal from Page.

The coal company was censured for not complying with a law which directs that mine cars shall clear the side of entries by two and one-half feet.. Coroner James T. Heffran conducted the inquest.

WOMAN ESCAPES FROM THE HOME

The County home authorities are at present looking for Mrs. Lizzie Taylor, who since last March has been an inmate of the institution. With her two sons, John and Alexander, aged respectively 19 and 8 years, wards of the Children's home, she slipped away about dusk on last Friday evening.

Mrs. Taylor secured permission of the authorities at the home about 8 o'clock Friday evening to go to the store at Arden. After making some trivial purchases the woman went to the Children's home and asked to see her two sons, stating that she wished to give them some candy. She was permitted to converse with the boys, and watching their opportunity the three skipped out.

Word was at once sent by phone to Superintendent John W. Quivey, at the County home, and he and some of his assistants at once began a search. It was thought the woman would board an interurban car, but this surmise was wrong.

The woman and her sons have thus far eluded officers who have been asked to be on the lookout for them The fugitives resided at Donora prior to being committed to the County and Children's home. They were found in destitute circumstances some time in March. The mother was taken to the County home, and the children were placed in charge of the detention officer of the Juvenile court by local officials. Afterwards they were committed to the Children's home.

It is the year's greatest sale. Remnant Day at Berryman's, Charleroi, Thursday and Friday, August 10 and 11. 9-2-t

A business meeting was held this morning at 10 o'clock when routine of business was taken up. This afternoon a motor boat regatta is being held on the river, this being one of the chief features of the convention. Officers will be elected today during a business session.

SOLE SURVIVOR AGAIN IN TOILS

Elwanger Charged With Violation of the Mining Laws

INFORMATION BY M'CANCH

Fred Elwanger, the sole survivor of the Marianna mine disaster is again under arrest. Constable Nelson Luker of Monongahela apprehended the man on a warrant charging violations of the mining laws at the Rebecca mine at Marianna on oath of Mine Inspector Alexander McCanch. It was alleged that Elwanger, who is a bricklayer in the mine, was caught by the firemen and fire boss smoking a pipe in the mine, which is in violation of an act of assembly approved June 9, 1911. He was given a hearing before Alderman A. R. Day and held for court at the August term under $300 bond. Although Elwanger had $480 in his pocket he did not furnish the bail.

It is said that H. F. Dotts, a sympathizer of the survivor of the great disaster, will bring suit against Constable Luker for not allowing Elwanger to give bail at Marianna instead of bringing him to Monongahela Luker called Day on the telephone and was informed that he would have to bring the prisoner before him.

Elwanger was arrested on information of J. R. Chalfant, detective for the Pennsylvania railroad, on November 29, 1910, charged with larceny and an attempt to commit a felony He was indicted with Edward Walters, who was sent to the workhouse for two years. It is said that Walters made a confession which implicated Elwanger but because he was sent to the workhouse when he wanted to go to the pentitentiary he refused to testify and Elwanger was discharged.

FRIENDS URGE HIM TO BE CANDIDATE

Charles O. Frye, of Charleroi, Asked to Enter Race for Clerk of the Courts

GOOD MAN FOR THE PLACE

A report has been circulated in Charleroi that Charles O. Frye was to enter the race for Clerk of Courts at the coming primaries.. In an interview with Mr. Frye this morning he said: "It is true that many friends have urged me to enter the field. Please just say for me that when I have thought the matter over and come to a definite conclusion, I will give my answer."

Should he decide to enter the field as a candidate for Clerk of Courts Mr. Frye would present a front that would be hard for any opposing candidate to overcome. There is none better fitted for the duties required of the Clerk of Courts. He has the ability and all other qualifications for the office and back of them all has the conscientiousness and will power to perform what he thinks is best for the majority.

To the Mail there would not be any doubt but that Mr. Frye would make a winning run. He is well and favorably known throughout the county and the mere mention of his name would bring friends rallying to his support. Through his work as Census Supervisor last year he gained a wide acquaintanceship among the voters and they got to know him thoroughly as a man in whom they could place every trust. As a borough councilman he has done as much for the town as any other councilman who has served heretofore.. Evidence of his work for the borough shows in numerous places. A natural born business man he with other progressive members has introduced a system into the municipal affairs that has been the surprise and envy of older and larger boroughs and cities. Mr. Frye tempers his acts with wisdom and never makes a move without first considering the advisibility of such and the reasonableness of it. Backed by an indomitable will he carries out what he starts to do. Such a man the county needs and it is to be hoped that Mr. Frye will consent to have his name offered as a candidate for the office suggested.

CLOSES ON FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL

County Detective Object to Games at Monongahela

PEOPLE OBJECT TO [illegible]

Considerable excitement was caused Tuesday when County Detective William McCleary ordered the Klause Carnival company, at Monongahela this week as a special attraction with the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's convention, to close up their cane racks, paddle wheel, Japanese ball and other games. He declared they were gambling devices and as such claimed they should not be allowed to run.

Upon the attractions being ordered closed Monongahela people including the carnival people themselves got busy. They inquired of Detective McCleary as to his authority. He said the District Attorney had given instructions. County Commissioner Hill took the matter up when the board was petitioned to have extra detectives appointed to help McCleary out at Monongahela and on Tuesday evening was at Monongahela to do a little investigating himself. The result was it is stated, that some of the attractions were reopened again.

District Attorney Acheson was communicated with by phone in regard to the matter at Monongahela and said according to Monongahela people that County Detective McCleary was pushing the matter himself. The carnival management claims that the games conducted are no worse than those run at other places.

Games similar to those with the Klause Carnival company were conducted at a carnival in Charleroi a year or more ago. They were closed down.

PRACTICAL RELIGION

The editor of the Holten (Kansas) Signal, being asked by a correspondent what he regarded as the best system of religion, made this reply:

"In our humble opinion, the best 'system' of religion is that which brings to you the greatest peace and comfort. Christian religion—based on the teachings of Jesus—a religion which we believe, has been a marvelous ad t o mankind. As John J. Ingalls once said, 'Pilate and Herod and Caesar, the kings and heroes, philosophers of that time, are nothing. No one cares that they lived or died, but millions now would rather die than surrender their faith in Jesus.' The details of a man's belief, the denomination with which he shall practice his religion, the ideas he may have of heaven and hell, his conception of his duty to God and his fellow-men are questions which he must fight out for himself, and his accountability, so long as his conduct trangresses not on the rights of others, is to his Maker alone. Every man should strive to live in such a manner that when he places his head on his pillow at night it will be with the feeling that he is at peace with his God, his family, his friends, and his banker. A religion which brings so fine a feeling—whatever it might be called—is worth striving for Perhaps this is not an orthodox view, but we are answering our correspondent's to the best of our ability."

ATHLETIC IDEALS

Dr. Goldwin Smith, in a short letter to the Cornell Era, tells of his ideal in athletics. This is a pithy paragraph from his statement: "I see that the number of athletes failing to pass a university examination is less than it was. The shade of Ezra Cornell will rejoice. What our founder wanted was not show of muscle, but preparation for life, in which in the case of university men muscle does not count for much. The force spent in football can not be recalled for study. Let us have games by all means, but games which exercise, not exhaust, and in which all alike can take part. Besides there is military drill, good in itself and not to be neglected if the force of the country is to be kept in the right hands. Into some universities the betting ring seems to have crept never, I hope, into ours."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Brown is traveing man who lives in Pittsburg. He has a little three-year-old who has just learned to say her prayers. Every Sunday Brown gets home for a few hours, but this is about all the time he has with his family.

Consequently the little girl is not as well acquainted, perhaps as she might be with his relation to the family, although she things him very nice because of the candy and presents he brings to her.

Mrs. Brown, in teaching the child its prayers, of course, t aught her to ask a blessing for "papa" along with "mamma" and "grandma" and "grandpa" and other persons the child knows well. She was much surprised the other night when the child at the end of "Now I lay me," recited the remainder of the prayer like this:

"God bless papa, mamma, grandma, grandpa, Willie and that man who comes to see mamma every Sunday and brings me such nice things."

"The toughest experience I ever had in my life was with the superintendent of a steel plant in the valley," said a life insurance solicitor. "I knew he was wealthy and carried no insurance, so I resolved to tackle him. Upon e ntering his office and explaining my business, I was surprised at his friendly, even codial greeting.

"'Life insurance,' he said. 'Well, now, that is a subject that interests me. Come with me to the shop. I've got to go there and you can tell me all about your company.'

"Then he took up his hat and I followed him, until at last he flung open a door. It was the machine shop, and the din was terrible. Hundreds of hammers were all beating iron at once and I was nearly deafened. Looking at my man I saw his lips move, and, leaning forward, I just managed to hear him shout:

"'Now tell me all about it.'

"He smiled as he said this, and I saw the trick that had been played on me. It was impossible to say a word so I marched right out of the shop and never went b ack."

Young Girl's Brave Act.

Remarkable bravery and presence of mind were displayed lately by Gwennie Franklin, aged 16, of New York, when she saved two boys from being burned to death. Half a dozen youngsters bedecked in war costumes of Indians were playing around a "council fire" in a vacant lot when George McCullough, aged six, got too close to the fire, and his clothes became ignited. His brother, Alexander, a year older, tried to beat out the flames and the fire spread to his clothing. The girl leaning out of the window of her home saw the accident, and the two brothers rolling on the ground. She ran out of doors, leaped over a fence and holding first one boy and then the other, heaped sand over them till the fire was extinguished. Both boys were unconscious, but not seriously injured.

Bees Recognize Man as Friend.

Charles Potchenick, employed by the Maverick apiaries near San Antonio, Tex., has unusual control over bees. He handles them with as much ease as one would in playing with kittens or a harmless pet. While working with them he goes bare-armed and bare-faced and pays no attention to the insects as they crawl over his exposed hands and arms or pile up in great clumps on his face. Recently he had a picture taken holding a small limb in his teeth on which a swarm had settled. The bees formed a kind of long beard hanging below his waist and his entire face was covered with those that crawled from the limb. Old bee keepers say that his feats in handling bees are the most remarkable in the world. He claims that he has not been stung in two years.

Oldest Dwelling.

Archaeologists at a recent conference decided that the oldest dwelling inhabited today is a mansion belonging to Count Matuschke at Winfel-on-the-Rhine, Germany, which was built in 700.

Short but Active Lives.

The working bee lives six months, the drone four months and the queen bee four years.

Industrious Jackdaws.

Sixty-seven sackfuls of sticks have been discovered on top of the tower of St. Michael's church, Exeter, England. They had been carried there by jackdaws for nest building.

The Greater Affliction.

To a discouraged remark of one New Yorker that appendicitis ran in his family, another savagely answered: "Thunderation! You don't know when you're well off; banging the piano runs in mine!"

HISTORIC TREE IS NOW DYING

A large Black Heart cherry tree located on the J. E. Sphar farm near this place, which is probably the oldest landmark of this section of Washington county is dying, only a few branches retaining life and it will soon suffer the fate of other marks of the historic past.

The tree is is claimed by the oldest living residents of this section bore fruit as early as the year 1786 and it is probably 125 to 150 years of age The original patent on the tract of land on which the tree stands was taken out on November 25, 1786 and was known as the McCardell Design.

The tract of land has passed into varions h ands since that time, but among the traditions handed down by one generation to another was that the tree was bearing fruit when the original patent was t aken out and at that time it was surrounded by a dense forest. The farm was conveyed to John Sphar and Henry Sphar, who were uncles of the present owner, J. E Sphar, by Stephen Luce in the year 1854.

The historic tree stands not far from Maple creek in sight of the bridge recently constructed over that stream by the county. It measures 11 feet in circumferance with six large limbs about 10 feet from the ground. The lengths of these limbs follow: Four feet seven inches, five feet seven inches, five feet one inch, main limb on center limb six feet six inches, four feet.

The tree spreads over 65 feet one way and 55 feet the other.

PAVING WORK IS PROGRESSING

It is expected that the work of paving Seventh and Eighth streets between Fallowfield and Washington avenues will be completed within a week or ten days. Thomas Arrige is the contractor and is just about ready to begin brick laying on Eighth street, and will be ready to begin work on Seventh street in a day or so. The Charleroi Water company has installed a water main in Seventh to be used as suggested by the Underwriters department in a connection between Crest avenue and McKean avenue mains

REUNION TO BE HELD AT THE AMITY SCHOOL

The first annual reunion of the school at Amity will be held on Thursday, August 31. The school is one of the oldest in the county and if the enthusiasm shown at the present time is any indication, one of the greatest celebrations of the kind ever held in the county will result.

CRUSADE ON BUMPS BEGUN BY BOROUGH

Borough Engineer Paul G. Elder and the b orough street force are about to begin a crusade on "bumps" on borough paved streets to put them in condition for fall and winter. In their work they will be aided by the trolley companies. On McKean avenue the Pittsburg Railways company will repair bumps between its t racks. The Charleroi Water company plumbers gas men and others who have had occasion to open up any of the streets will be asked to remove bumps resulting in many cases from the openings.

He Didn't Know.

One June day in 1862 near Fredericksball, Va., General Stonewall Jackson saw one of General Hood's Texans climbing a fence to get into a cherry tree. "Where are you going?" shouted Jackson. "I don't know," replied the soldier. "To what command do you belong?" "I don't know," the Texan replied. "Well, what state are you from?" "I don't know." Jackson gave the man up, but he asked a comrade what it all meant. "Well," was the reply, "Old Stonewall and General Hood gave orders yesterday that we were not to know anything until after the next fight."

The soldier was left to his cherries.

An Innocent Query.

At a dinner party in England the host introduced to the favorable notice of the company, amid murmurs of admiration, a splendid truffled pheasant.

"Isn't it a beauty?" he said. "Dr. So-and-so gave it to me; killed it himself."

"Ah! What was he treating it for?" asked one of the guests.

A State Secret.

"I hope your husband has no secrets from you." "Not many. However, he never would tell me what he paid for the engagement ring."

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured.

It has been abundantly shown that rest, fresh air, and good food, do help many persons suffering from tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food and good cooking unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food, and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows:—Weldon, Ill.

Gentlemen: "Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

On December 14, 1904, I was taken with typhoid pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. On February 21st, 1905, was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3rd, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

On the 14th of July I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption, it being very highly recommended. To-day I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better. I would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure."

BASEBALL BINGLES

Sporting Life says "Little Gene Elliott, the Highlanders' recruit third baseman. who made a great hit on the Southern training trip. seems to have dropped out of sight entirely. With the consent of Manager Chase Eliott went to his home in Pennsylvania shortly after the opening of the season. He was to report as soon as his lame arm rounded into form Nothing has been heard from Elliott since." Possibly if Manager Chase would drop in Charleroi Saturday afternoon he would discover what became of Elliott.

* * *

"Bob" Tarleton, former Charleroi first baseman in the good old P. O M. times is now playing a good game for Providence in the Eastern League.

* * *

Parsons, an old P. O. M. league pitcher is with Montreal in the Eastern circuit.

* * *

Abstein, a Pittsburg Pirate for a while, now poses on first base for Jersey City. Phelps who used to do most of the receiving for the Corsairs is playing with Toronto.

* * *

There are a big lot of former minor league stars camping around this vicinity.

* * *

Phil Hinton who was scheduled to play with the Charleroi Independents on Saturday as gone to Hamilton, Can. to catch for that team.

* * *

The last Friday New Castle it is stated the New Castle team drew 25 paid admissions. It is no wonder the bottom rungers of the O and P. couldn't stay there.

* * *

Piqua, the team John McIlvaine is twirling for has advanced to fourth place. Arch Osborne's club. Lima is in seventh. Springfield is leading the league but at that is only 10 points ahead of Marion, in the Ohio State.

* * *

According to Arch Osborne, manager of Lima ,none of the minor leagues are doing exceptionally well this year.

* * *

A minor league team $4,000 in debt this year looks to be about as big a proposition to worry about as that of Charleroi two or three years ago. And that's New Castle.
